The Locofoco National Convention. To Baltimore the Locos went, Du dah, du dah, To nominate a President,

Oh de du dah day. They brought six horses to the test, Du dah, du dah, To see which one would ride the best,
Oh de durdah day.
Chorus—Then here's to General Scott, The hero bold and free We'll place him there in the President's chair. The People's Nominee.

Old Cass came first upon the track, Du dah, du dah, But Douglass laid him on his back, Oh de du dah day; Buchanan next came in the batch, Du dah, du dah, And Marcy with his breeches patched, Oh de du dah day.

For four long days they held the field, Each one resolved to never vield. When suddenly was heard a groan, These men we fear are too well known.

They battled long, they battled loud,

To find the man in all their crewd: But none was found to quell their fears, Till they heard the name of General Pierce This mighty General it is said, The baggage train has sometimes led, When he brought them up, the foe to quell,

He fainted and from his horse he fell. Then join our ranks, come one and all, And help to roll the true Whig ball, We'll chase the Locos over the plain, With the hero bold of Lundy's Lane.

The battle we are sure to win. Old Fuss and Feathers must come in; The Locos will find out too soon, That he is yet that same old coon.

And when he gets to Washington, The glorious victory will be won; The Loces then will round him stoop, To see him take his plate of soup.

Let Whigs do their Duty.

In the approaching Presidential conest, we would urge upon the Whigs the great propriety of doing their duty.

The canvass will in a short time be fairly opened, and the work to be done, we deem not only important to the triumph of Whig Principles, but equally important to the best interest of the whole

It is true, the signs of the times indicate very strongly, that the Hero of Chippewa and Lundy's Lane will march triumphanty through the Locofoco ranks and take his seat at the White House on the 4th of next March; yet, in order to make surety doubly sure, every Whig in the land should be at his post, fighting. as though the fate of the election depended upon his individual exertions.

It has too often been the policy of many of the Whigs to act with lukewarmness and indifference in elections where great national principles were involved, refusing, in many instances, even to go to the polls and cast their votes. Such indifference, we say' is wholly inconsistent with the duties we owe to ourselves and to our country. The business of this House is bound still to grow better. The Tarnpike from this place to Danville is almost ished, and so soon as completed there will be a Coach put on it. The great Southwestern Railroad from Danville to McMinaville, Tenn. cannot miss this fown more than one mile, if at all. So, gentlemen, any of you who have healthy wives, and want to make money very fast, come and give me a trade. I have tried a little of almost all kinds of public frade, and this business makes money come faster than any thing I have got into. TERMS .- I will sell the House and Lot, with all its appurtenances, for one-third in hand; one-third in 6 months, and the remainder in 12 months. 'Fiat Justitia Ruit Cœlum'

Fellow-citizens, "hear me for my cau e, and strike, but hear!" THE vast number of patients who are using my various medicines for the cure of Chronic and Acute Diseases, in every section of the United States and Canada, compels me, in future, instead of giving certificates of the wonderful cures performed, to give only the diseases, names of patients cured, counties and post offices, &c. &c. This mode I am the more inclined to adopt-first, because I think it is the most correct one, as it will enable the afflicted every where to satisfy themselves of the correctness of the state-ments made; second, because the great deception practiced on the public by the various fraudulent certificates published by Patent Medidulent certineates published by Fatent Medi-cine and Sarsaparilla venders, has caused the people to look with suspicion upon all such notices, especially as they are generally given in such an ambiguous style, and in such distant sections of the country, as to render it quite mpossible to prove their authenticity.

I am fortified in my opinion that this is the method of publishing, from the fact the per cent. of all the persons cured by my medicines BARKER & BRYANT are such extraordinary cases that they could not possibly be believed, was not this plan adoj.

Epileptic Fits

They solicit a public Their public Their Barker.

Case 1sr.—A child (black) of Enoch Yates, Jr., had Epileptic Fits of so violent a character as to distort all the limbs—the hands and arms uation it was attended by Doctor Burk, of Har-risonville, Shelby county, who, at the end of three months, gave it up as incurable, and with ten fits when he gave up, for the one it has when he began to treat it. Indeed, it had fits very half hour, day and night, when I first sent the medicine. One bottle of my Excelsior cured this child, and it never had but one fit after it took the first dose, (it is now 12 months;) the whole of the limbs are perfectly straight, and the child is as well as if it had never been sick.

Mr. Vates is a highly result of the child is as well as if it had never been sick.

Mr. Yates is a highly respectable gentleman, and lives in Anderson county. His post office is Rough-and-Ready, Anderson county, Ky. Case 2D.—Mr. Anthony Stars had a son 9 vears old, who was three years subject to Epi-leptic Fits regularly. After trying all that cal-omel could do, he commenced with my Ne Plus Ultra and Excelsior; two bettles of each entirely cured him. It is now two years since he took the medicine, and he has never since had a fit. Mr. Stars lives 10 miles from Shelby-ville, in Shelby county. This case was pub-lished in the Yeoman last summer. CASE 3D.—Mrs. Nancy Hopewell, who lives in Spencer county, had a son aged 15 years, and who suffered with Fits. Several calomel doctors tried all their skill on him without any benefit. Two bottles of my medicine, one of Excelsion and one of NE Plus Ultra, cured him. It is now three years or more, and he has never had a fit since he took the first dose of the medicine. Mrs. Hopewell's post office is Bloomfield, Nelson county, Ky.
